Dear Parent or Guardian,

I am including an email that was sent to students last night. At this time, all fourteen community colleges in Pennsylvania have or will imminently move to remote instruction for their degree seeking students. Further, Governor Wolf has ordered the closure of Pennsylvania public K-12 schools <https://www.governor.pa.gov/newsroom/governor-wolf-announces-closure-of-pennsylvania-schools/>.

For the same reasons, the Amy Wise Children's Creative Learning Center is also closed through the remainder of the semester. I recognize that this may be very challenging for your families and appreciate your understanding.

For families who have pre-paid tuition for their children, pro-rated refunds will be made available. We will communicate details about this next week.

Please take good care,

Dr. Case Willoughby
